

Him

Preface

Sometimes we hear things from our pastor or teachers masked as preachers that inspire us, with some ideas seemingly random. Millions of have been so inspired by similar words that inspired me on Easter Day 2011 starting at 4AM when I awoke with a single idea of prose named Him. Several verses came to me at service later that morning and then more after I left. It is not a poem that is unique, although we need reminding of basic principles of being a Christian.

Him

All that believe radiate beauty from round to slim
Embrace Him

He delivers us from the worst when times are most dim
Worship Him

He is everything in the end, along the way and when you begin
Acknowledge Him

Within the influence of his graces, you always win
Hear Him

He will fill much more than your cup above the brim
Listen to Him

He asks and expects you to regularly look deeply within Speak to Him

When your heart is open you will never be forsaken
Testify to Him

With Him, you gain greater understanding, your soul is awaken
Praise Him
